

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS

PInay
CULTURE BEARERS
OF THE
FILIPINO DIASPORA

Lead Discussant:

VIRGIE CHATTERGY, Professor Emeritus
UHM College of Education

“That is so
Filipino!”

How do Filipino women immigrants express their core values and how is it being understood?

Sunday, Nov. 16, 2014
Hamilton Library, Room 301,
University of Hawaii at Manoa
Starts at 1:00 pm

Explore with us answers on ways Filipino women believe in, incorporate and practice Filipino characteristics in their life experiences.

The Filipino Association of University Women is undertaking a project that would explore how Filipino women immigrants transmit Filipino culture, and looks at what is actually being transmitted.

We are inviting women to share their (1) lived experiences of Filipino culture, (2) core values as passed on by their ancestors, and (3) their own culture transmission and culture perpetuation behaviors.

FAUW plans to document the stories and conduct outreach presentations to share their findings. The organization intends to publish a book that would investigate, through first person stories contributed by Filipino women of all ages, the extent to which they believe in, incorporate and practice any of the core values in their life experiences.

FAUW

This event is co-sponsored by the University of Hawaii, Hamilton Library.
For inquiries, contact Rose Churma at rosechurma@mac.com or (808) 358-2868.
R.S.V.P. by Friday, Nov. 14. • Painting by Ben Cab, 2011